From the Editor

What a busy weekend; run here; run there! Now I get to start the week off with jury duty!

It was reported at the Federation meeting on Saturday morning that the West Coast Association only has ten clubs (427 dancers) insured through the USDA Square Dance Insurance program. These aren't very good numbers considering how many dancers we have in the West Coast area. The USDA Square Dance Insurance Program is available to all square and round dancers who belong to a club participating in the program. The club has to have 100% participation. This insurance not only provides secondary medical coverage for the dancer, but it also provides liability insurance for the club which means that if anyone (dancer, visitor, etc.) decides to sue for injury or damages you will be covered by this insurance. If a lawsuit is ever filed, they can sue not only the owner of the building you are dancing in, but your club and each of your members individually. I think I would rather pay the $4.10 per person annually than what I might have to pay for my share if the members of my club were sued for say $1,000,000! Yes, for only $4.10 per dancer, you will have secondary medical coverage (whatever your primary medical insurance doesn't cover, this square dance insurance will cover), and your club will have liability insurance. Plus did you know that if your members have square dance insurance, they will also be covered on banner raids and for demos (if the proper paperwork has been submitted)? Even if you dance in a community club house, your members might want to reconsider your decision to not participate in the USDA Square Dance Insurance Program. If you have any questions about this program, the West Coast Insurance Chairmen will be happy to assist you.

Two of the breakout sessions this weekend were on "Dancer Preservation, Education and Publicity" and "Public Awareness and Publications"; each of the regional associations had representatives at these sessions. Several ideas were discussed; some have been tried and worked; some require further research; and some have been tried and didn't seem to work. I will be requesting copies of the reports so I can reprint them in the DANCERgram for your information; perhaps you will want to consider some of the ideas.

We had eleven squares at the Student Dance on Sunday afternoon and huge circle of round dancers; a great turn out!

Health Updates

Toni Blanchette is home recovering from her bypass surgery and is doing well. Their daughter, Jade, who had a reoccurrence of cancer, has been taking a pill and her walnut-sized tumors have shrunk to pea-size.

Marty Van Wart – a caller in Zephyrhills - will be having knee replacement surgery on one knee the end of March and then on the other knee the first week of April.

Safety First!

Safety is something that should always be on our mind as we travel to the many dances that we visit, as well as during the many other activities we are involved in. Following are some tips to keep in mind:

- ✓ The elbow is the strongest point on your body. If you are close enough to use it, do!
- ✓ If a robber asks for your wallet and/or purse, DO NOT HAND IT TO HM. Toss it away from you...Chances are that he is more interested in your wallet and/or purse than you, and he will go for the that.
- ✓ If you are ever thrown into the trunk of a car, kick out the back tail lights and stick your arm out the hole and start waving like crazy. The driver won't see you, but everybody else will. This has saved lives.
- ✓ Women have a tendency to get into their cars after shopping, eating, working, etc., and just sit (doing their checkbook, or making a list, etc. DON'T DO THIS!) The predator will be watching you, and this is the perfect opportunity for him to get in on the passenger side, put a gun to your head, and tell you where to go. AS SOON AS YOU GET INTO YOUR CAR, LOCK THE DOORS AND LEAVE. If someone is in the car with a gun to your head DO NOT DRIVE OFF. Repeat: DO NOT DRIVE OFF! Instead gun the engine and speed into anything, wrecking the car. Your air bag will save you. If the person is in the back seat they will get the worst of it. As soon as the car crashes bail out and run. It is better than having them find your body in a remote location.
- ✓ A few notes about getting into your car in a parking lot, or parking garage:
 - Be aware: look around you, look into your car, at the passenger side floor, and in the back seat
 - If you are parked next to a big van, enter your car from the passenger door. Most serial killers attack their victims by pulling them into their vans while the women are attempting to get into their cars.
 - Look at the car parked on the driver's side of your vehicles, and the passenger side...If a male is sitting alone in the seat nearest your car, you may want to walk back into the mall, or work, and get a guard/policeman to walk you back out. IT IS ALWAYS BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY. (And better paranoid than dead.)
- ✓ ALWAYS take the elevator instead of the stairs. Stairwells are horrible places to be alone and the perfect crime spot. This is especially true at NIGHT!
- ✓ If the predator has a gun and you are not under his control, ALWAYS RUN! The predator will only hit you (a running target) 4 in 100 times; and even then, it most likely WILL NOT be a vital organ. RUN, preferably in a zigzag pattern!
- ✓ As women, we are always trying to be sympathetic; STOP! It may get you raped, or killed. Ted Bundy, the serial killer, was a good-looking, well educated man, who ALWAYS played on the sympathies of unsuspecting women. He walked with a cane, or a limp, and often asked “for help” into his vehicle or with his vehicle, which is when he abducted his next victim.

- ✓ If you think you hear a baby crying outside your door or window or you wake up in the middle of the night and hear all of your taps outside running, don’t go outside to investigate. This is a ploy to get you outside so they can attack.

Stay alert, keep safe, and look out for your neighbors!

Things I Bet You Don’t Know About Square Dancing

Who square dances?

All sorts of people. Singles, college students, teenagers, senior citizens, and everyone in between. There are thousands of square dance clubs in the US, Canada, and throughout the world.

Don’t square dancers dress funny?

Absolutely. We usually wear jeans and western shirts, or full skirts and lots of petticoats. The dress is based on the traditions of the dance, but has been updated over the years. But don’t feel you have to get a new wardrobe, new dancers are urged to just “dress comfortably”.

Do I have to listen to country music all the time?

Yep. Such country greats as Aretha Franklin and the Beatles! We dance to a wide variety of music, from country, to traditional folk, to show tunes, to 60’s rock and roll, to disco. I’ll bet you never knew people square dance to “Pink Cadillac”, did you?

Isn’t square dancing just for old people?

Yes. Very young people do not square dance; you have to at least be able to walk.

I don’t have a partner. Is that a problem?

No, many square dance clubs have single members; but, there is a shortage of men on the dance floor, so a partner cannot always be guaranteed. If you do have a partner, bring him or her along!

Is square dancing good exercise?

This is a common misconception. To keep it from being too healthful, we take breaks, socialize, and eat goodies. In spite of this, you should wear what you would wear for some vigorous walking; comfortable shoes or boots are a must. Square dancing is not the best way to break in a new pair of boots.

What if I don't like it?

We're "so sure" you'll have a good time, we offer this special double your money back guarantee; if you don't enjoy yourself, we'll refund twice what you paid for the first two weeks.

How much does it cost?

The first few nights are usually free. After that, dancing averages $3 to $5 a night, depending on the club and area. It's much cheaper than a night out at the movies!

I'm sold! Where do I sign up?

Beginner groups are usually formed several times each year. New dancers can enjoy dancing with these groups, while learning the steps and moves. These groups usually meet on a weeknight from 7:30 to 9:30. To find a night and location convenient to you,

Jekyll Island - Georgia's Historic Golden Isle

Jekyll Island Is Picturesque Island off the Coast of Georgia

By Linda Garrison, About.com

Wild sea oats grow on the sand dunes at Jekyll Island, Georgia

Jekyll Island is off the coast of southeast Georgia. This golden isle, one of a string of islands that stretch from the Florida border up the coast of Georgia and into South Carolina, is a fascinating port of call for small ship cruise lines cruising the Intracoastal Waterway or for vacationers traveling by car. Visiting the same location for over 20 years has given me the opportunity to explore all there is to do and see on Jekyll. I feel like my Jekyll memories are like one of those time-lapse cameras that snaps a photo periodically, only my photos are a year apart! Unlike many coastal islands that have become overgrown and overdeveloped, Jekyll has actually improved with age due to the hard work of the State of Georgia and others.

The island is covered with live oaks, Spanish moss, and palmetto. Criss-crossing the island is over 20 miles of bicycling and walking paths. You can always find a peaceful spot on the beach. Few locals come over to Jekyll from nearby Brunswick because of the $3 "parking" fee charged to all cars entering the island. There are some year-round residents, and a handful of hotels along the beach. Definitely NOT a place to visit if you are looking for nightlife!

Some small ship cruise lines visit Jekyll Island as a port of call. These cruises are during either the autumn or the spring along the Intracoastal Waterway. Since many other mainstream ships are starting to depart from nearby Jacksonville or Port Canaveral, Florida, Jekyll is also a good place to stopover for a day on your way to or from your cruise.

History of Jekyll Island

Jekyll has a fascinating history dating back to the end of the nineteenth century. The island was purchased from John Eugene duBignon in 1886 for $125,000 by some of the wealthiest men in America as a hunting resort. His family had owned the island since 1800. The names of the owners are recognizable to most history buffs, and include J.P. Morgan, Joseph Pulitzer, Marshall Field, John J. Hill, Everett Macy, William Rockefeller, Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Richard Teller Crane. The island was prized for its "splendid isolation."

The club members commissioned architect Charles A. Alexander to design and build a sixty room Clubhouse. The Clubhouse was finished November 1, 1887, with the first official season beginning in January, 1888. In 1901, an attached annex was built to handle the expanding needs of members. A syndicate of members, including J.P. Morgan and William Rockefeller, built a six unit apartment building in 1896 they named Sans Souci--the first condominiums!

The owners would usually spend a couple of winter months at Jekyll Island, arriving by yacht from New York. (Remember, this was BEFORE Florida was developed.) The Jekyll Wharf where they tied their yachts is still used by boaters, sailors, and small ship cruise lines today. Although Jekyll was a hunting resort, it certainly didn't look like any hunting or fishing camp I've ever been to with the About Fishing guide! Between 1886 and 1928, the owners built "cottages" along the marshy side of the island where they would be protected from the ocean. Many of these beautiful cottages (mansions) have been restored or are currently a work in progress. The largest "cottage" is almost 8,000 square feet. The Jekyll Island Clubhouse is now a romantic Victorian hotel.

Throughout the Club's history, many recreational amenities were added. The first golf course was laid in 1898, with two more done in 1909. A marina to handle yachts, a swimming pool, tennis courts, bocce, croquet and other recreational facilities were also available to help members while away the time they spent on the island.

With the onset of the Great Depression, the Jekyll Island Club members became disenchanted with the island. They began traveling to European spas and elsewhere for their entertainment. After the 1942 season, the U. S. government asked the members not to use the island for the duration of World War II due to concerns for the security of the powerful owners. They never went back. The island was sold to the State of Georgia in 1947. The state attempted, until 1972, to operate the Clubhouse, Sans Souci and Crane Cottage as a hotel complex, but its efforts were unsuccessful and the buildings were closed. In 1978, the 240-acre club district was designated a National Historic Landmark. In 1985, work began to restore the Clubhouse, Annex and the Sans Souci into a world-class hotel and resort named the Jekyll Island Club Hotel. The $20 million in restoration funds have all been invested in the buildings and grounds, since the facility can only be leased. Great care was taken to create a faithful restoration while installing modern conveniences. The Club is once again a showcase, and is now available for everyone to enjoy.

Today the 240 acre National Historic Landmark is often called "Millionaire's Village."

A one-day stopover on Jekyll Island must include a tour of the Historic District, also called the Millionaire's Village. Many of the cottages have been restored, and anyone who is fascinated by old homes will love the tour. The current restoration project is one of the largest in the Southeastern United States. If you arrive via small cruise ship on the Intracoastal Waterway, you will dock at the same Jekyll Island Wharf used by some of the most luxurious pleasure craft ever built. From the wharf, you can see the village laid out before you. The fascinating sea of grass on the other side of the waterway is the famous Georgia "Marshes of Glynn" made famous by the poet Sidney Lanier.

The tours run from 10 am to 3 pm at the National Historic District Welcome Center, which is located on Shell Road a short walk from the wharf. Be sure to check for the times before you go. Tours are offered every day except Christmas and New Year's Day, and the phone number is 912-635-4036. Inside the welcome center, you might first view an 8-minute video presentation on Jekyll Island's history and obtain tickets for a tram tour of the District, The narrated tram tour will take you around the village, stopping at least 4 of the restored cottages. Thirty-three of the original buildings still stand. The tour in 2006 was $15 for adults and $7 for children 6-18. The narrated tour lasts about 90 minutes, but you can easily spend a few hours or half a day exploring the few small shops and houses not on the guided tour or just wandering the village on foot.

You can also do a self-guided walking tour of the 240 acre village. Another way to see the village is by horse-drawn carriage. The carriage tours also leave from the welcome center, and they give you an opportunity to see the village at the slow pace it should be visited.

One warning--don't forget to use bug spray when wandering the island! The mosquitoes can be pretty ferocious in South Georgia! After you've toured the cottages and the historic district, there's still time to rent a bike or explore the rest of the island by car or tour bus.

Bike Riding

One of my favorite shore activities on Jekyll Island is bicycle riding. The island is flat and has over 20 miles of biking and hiking trails. There are numerous places to rent bicycles, and all will provide a map of the island with the bike paths marked. In my opinion, the best riding on the island is a big circle loop that starts at the Millionaire's Village (historic district) of the island and goes north to the Jekyll fishing pier at the far north end of the island. Leaving the pier, you ride across the foot bridge, through the marsh, and down the bike path by the beach road to the convention center, cut through the forest and end back up at the Welcome Center for the Millionaire's Village. This circle tour takes at least 2 hours of steady pedaling, but you can shorten it by cutting across the island by the golf course or using the road rather than the twisting bike path.

There are many other fascinating routes to take. Just get a map when you rent your bike and plot your own trail. You can ride all the way around the island, but the south end of the island near the water park is not shaded, and can get very hot! I usually criss-cross the island, following the bike trails or quiet streets, stopping often to look for alligators in the marsh.

Beach Walking

The Jekyll Island beach is quiet and unspoiled. You can walk for hours and see only a handful of other people. If you go to the south end of the island near the South Dunes picnic area to walk, you might not see another person! I love walking on the beach at Jekyll because it is so uncrowded and peaceful. Because of the heat, Ronnie and I often walk at night in June with our red-beamed flashlight looking for sea turtles who have come ashore to lay their eggs. These lumbering creatures are protected, and there is quite an active sea turtle patrol out at night on their 4-wheelers. We've never been willing to stay up all night looking for turtles, so have yet to see one on Jekyll. However, I've often seen their tracks from the sea up to the sand dunes.

They're very distinctive! The sea turtle patrol marks and numbers each nest, warning everyone to keep their distance.

When you look at a map, you'll see that Jekyll is located at the mouth of 2 large rivers. These rivers dump rich soil offshore and the currents carry it onto some areas of the beach. Because of this phenomenon, you might find the ocean bottom covered with mud rather than sand when you go swimming at low tide. The sand on the beach and at high tide is a golden color and is quite lovely. It's just NOT the snowy white powdery beach you'll find on the Gulf Coast. However, the richness of the offshore mud means you'll find numerous sand dollars and other beautiful shells buried in the mud or washed ashore. There is also a large sand bar stretching way out into the sea near Blackbeard's Restaurant. This sand bar is fun to explore during low tide. (It's covered at high tide.)

Jekyll's unique salt marsh ecosystem, its beaches and shore birds are the focus of walks led by Coastal Encounters Nature Center. Year round walks are scheduled and last 1 -2 hours. They also have night time turtle walks during the summer laying season.

Other Activities on Jekyll

If bike riding or beach walking is too tame for you, Jekyll also has 63 holes for golfers and 13 fast-dry clay tennis courts. Horseback riding is available at the fishing pier and beach and trail riding is another great way to explore this fascinating piece of Georgia. An 11-acre water park is fun for all ages. Deep-sea charters and offshore boating and cruising the marshes are available from the Jekyll Harbor Marina south of the village on the Intracoastal Waterway. Dolphin watching trips are also popular. We watch dolphins cruise the beach almost every morning when the ocean is calm, so they must be plentiful in the rich seas off Jekyll. For "culture" lovers, the outdoor Jekyll Island Theater runs musicals during June and July. Aspiring actors from Valdosta State University make up the cast, and tickets are reasonable. (Don't forget the bug spray for the outdoor theater!) For such a small island, there's a lot to do! Jekyll Island, Georgia is a great place to spend the day while on your cruise up the Intracoastal Waterway. Visit the Historic District and explore the trails, beaches, and marsh areas. Since Jekyll is owned by the State and the land is managed, I hope it will continue to change for the better, or not change at all. I hope you have an opportunity to visit the island. I think you will find that one day is not nearly enough!
