July 20, 2009 – Deadline to submit nominations for West Coast Distinguished Service Award. For info: anndonslocum@yahoo.com.

From the Editor

Here it is July already; only a few more weeks until the schools are open again; the dancing will pick up, the seasonal clubs will start up, the snowbirds will slowly start heading south and then we will be in full swing again!

It's time for the seasonal clubs to start sending me the schedules for the Fall so I can start adding your dances to my Master Calendar. Winter visitors are watching for the first dance of your dance season.

I hear that Sun City Swingers had 10 squares at their dance Friday night to help Van celebrate his 65th birthday and retirement from his day job. Great turnout; too bad dancers can't support all the and attend these dances and show your support!

dances all the time in this way. It is unfortunate that some dancers think they can't visit a club unless they are on a banner raid. It will be unfortunate if more clubs have to shut down during the summer because they can't meet expenses due to the low attendance at their dances. Everyone needs to get out

Have you submitted your nomination for the West Coast Distinguished Service Award?

Do you keep a list of all your contacts requesting square dance information? Suncoast Squares has been collecting names and email addresses since their club started. They have approximately 500 names on their list at this point. At one event alone, they collected 85 names of people interested in attending their next Fun Night. They keep re-contacting these people until their email bounces back or they request that their name be removed from the list. Maybe some other clubs should take heed and try this!

Health & Sympathy Updates

These postings, as well as any previous postings, and notices for dancers can be found at www.squaredancefan.com

John Wall – caller and husband of Lisa Wall, president of the Round Dance Council of Florida – as you already know, John passed away while still in Long Beach for the National Convention. I have received an update on his funeral arrangements.

It seems that a slight change has been necessary in the services scheduled for John Wall. Both the viewing and the funeral dates have been moved ahead one day. Please make note of this change.

There will be a viewing on Wednesday, July 8th at 5:00 PM to be held at Quinn-Shalz Family Funeral Home, 3600 Third Street South, Jacksonville Beach, FL 32250. A funeral service will be held the following day, Thursday, July 9th at 11:00 at St John's Catholic Church, 2400 Mayport Rd, Atlantic Beach, FL 32233.

We have already heard that many of our out-of-town dancers are planning to arrive in Jacksonville for these services, so please share with them these changes. Lisa is so sorry about this and if you could get this out ASAP for those who have made plans. It would be greatly appreciated

Please continue to keep Lisa and her family in your prayers during this difficult time. Cards and words of encouragement can be sent to Lisa Wall at 6 Oaks Dr, Jacksonville Beach, FL 32250.

Another email I received:

If you know of anyone coming from out of town, I have reserved some rooms at the Comfort Inn directly across from the Church for Wed.

She needs some cheering up! Please send cards to her in care of Jordan’s Nursing Home, 9935 Red Arrow, P. O. Box 607, Bridgeman, MI 49106. Bob’s cell phone number is 813-713-3874.

30th Annual Single-Rama

The beautiful historic Kenilworth Lodge in Sebring awaits your arrival on October 23rd to attend the 30th Annual Single-Rama hosted by the Florida Association of Single Square and Round Dancers.

As you ascend the front steps to the front porch lined with rocking chairs and you enter the double doors into the lobby, you will see the grand staircase where we take our group photo every year after the Saturday night dance.

To the right of the staircase is the check-in desk just as it looked in 1916 when the Kenilworth Lodge was originally built.

"The hotel was built by the town founder, George Sebring, in 1916. Mr. Sebring pictured the new Sebring as a "delightful, wholesome community" which would be populated with "contented and happy people seeking health, pleasure and happiness." Early brochures described Mr. Sebring's dreams for his town in terms not far removed from those used by the founders of the various "utopias" which sprang up from time to time in earlier history of the United States.

Kenilworth Lodge was constructed for "well to do" Northern travelers to enjoy Mr. Sebring's town for the winter - and possibly relocate later - and many of them did! It had a short season of 3 months, frequently the usual pattern for grand hotels in resort areas of the day. Many of them came to enjoy golf, swimming, fishing, concerts, dinner shows and relaxing in Florida's sunshine. The season ran from just before New Year's Day to late March or mid-April. Mr. Sebring was good friends with Mr. S. Davies Warfield, president of the Seaboard Atlantic Railway, and every train stopped in Sebring. This certainly made it easy to winter in Sebring at a time when railroad travel was the only practical way to travel very far.

The building was designed in the Mediterranean Revival style - quite new to Florida in the early 1900's. George Sebring used the most modern methods and floor plans. The lodge featured pre-hung doors, a very modern method in 1916, electricity throughout, an Otis elevator and more than the normal amount of bathrooms. All guest rooms had private baths, with the exception of 6 pairs of rooms which shared a bath between them, planned for families. Those are now suites with sitting rooms. The Kenilworth was built with a center, 4000 square foot lobby and a grand staircase, with two wings - one on either side. The Lodge was opened in the season of 1916. By 1919, the Kenilworth was under construction again to enlarge it by extending the wings on either side to include more guest rooms. This construction brought the main building to its present size.

The Kenilworth was the grandest resort in the area. It has hosted a number of celebrities and notable guests over the years.”
Reprint from www.kenilworthlodge.com

Rumor has it that the third floor of the Kenilworth is haunted; are you up to staying on that floor to find out?

The intimate group settings in the lobby invite you to sit down and visit with the other dancers from around the state. There are also puzzles to work on, books to read, a ping pong table and a pool table.

We start dancing Friday night with Lisa Wall on rounds and Sam Dunn on squares. Right after the dance, everyone rushes back to their rooms to change into comfortable clothes, grabs their snacks and back to the dance hall for an after party! Saturday morning there is a round dance workshop, in the afternoon a fun dance and in the evening another square dance. And then another after party!

Sunday morning finds everyone in the lobby enjoying a continental breakfast (free with your room), saying their goodbyes and heading back home.

All of this, for only $20 per person in advance for the dance package; $25 at the door. The hotel is separate and you must call the Kenilworth to make your reservations.
