(From Martha Bird) Look what I received from Joy/Joyce Taylor Oct. 7, 2016 10:34 pm.:

I didn't get this headed your way as soon as I should have, Guess I was expecting to have to go back to the hospital at any time.

I'd like to thank everyone for the cards, well wishes and especially the prayers and yellow-rocks sent my way. I value the friendship of every one of you and miss you very much.

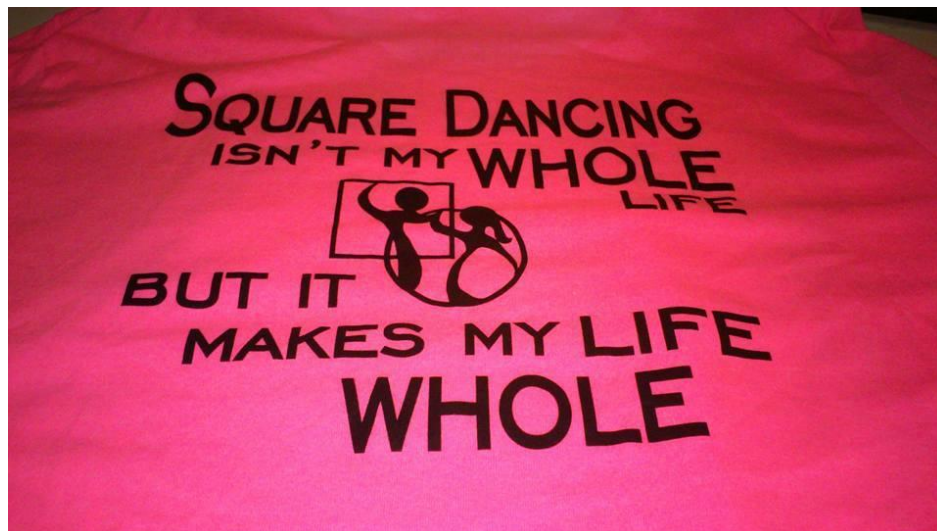

After spending most of Sept. (four separate times) in the hospital you can believe I was ready to come home and stay. All together I had a couple of strokes, heart valve replacement, heart jumping to 144 beats per min. (A-phen) and uncontrolled nose bleed. Every incident seemed to leave me a little weaker. The dr. has said I can drive now so my big job is to build my strength back. It would be a lot more fun to do if I had a square dance club close enough to go to. Guess I'll just have to do it the un-fun way.

My daughter, Lori, has been a pillar of strength through all of this. She's been there to drive me to the dr., checking on me while I was in the hospital, plain old moral support and a hug when I needed it. All of this while taking care of her own family as well. I didn't realize what a strong woman I was raising when she had me pulling my hair out when she was a kid. I'm glad now that I didn't really pinch her head off and flush it down the toilet. Just picture a kid with lazy eye and her good eye covered up. Now put her on a bike with her feet on the handlebars and her hands in the air yelling "Look Mama, no hands". That was Lori!

All you dancing friends, dance one for me.

Yellowrocks!
