Virginia's Western Wear and Square Dance Shop Announces Closing

The following message was received from Chuck Drawdy, owner of Virginia's Western Wear and Square Dance Shop in Mascotte.

"After supporting the Square Dance Community for over 35 years, sadly the square dance community no longer supports us. While we have met a lot of great people, the decline in customers has led to the closing of 3 manufacturers, Fun and Fancy & Malco Modes (new owners making only petticoats & pettipants), & Mid-South Shoes, makers of the Mitzi fringe boots. The only known (that we are aware of) mass producer is Square Up Fashions in California. All in stock apparel is now 25% off original price. Virginia's Western Wear will continue serving the western style apparel, just not the square dance after this year. We have a lot of merchandise to clear, it will probably take the rest of the year. I will set up for the last time at the Camporee's convention in October in Eustis, that one is always fun.

Mom started her store in 1979, so 2 more years we'll (I'll) be celebrating 40 years of continuous operations. Then it'll be time to move back to Alaska, & become a Snowbird. Thanks again, chuck"

Floor Time

The following are some excerpts from an article that was written by the presidents of the Southeast Association, Steve Adler and Sally Galek:

"FLOOR TIME"

This is what every experienced dancer, every caller, every cuer will say. The more you dance, the better you are likely to become. And there's another factor - floor time plus different callers/cuers. Each caller has a different pattern, a different rhythm, maybe even a different speed. Typically, you're more comfortable with whichever caller or cuer you dance most frequently with or who ran the classes you took. Try someone else. The other dancers and the caller are there to help if you have a problem. But I'll break down the square! Not fun. But I've done it. Don't like it, but it happens - and it's part of the learning process - as long as it doesn't happen too often.

How do I get more floor time? It's easy, if you have some free evenings.

Now, I'll emphasize something that Jack mentioned at his Advanced dance on Monday. If you are relatively new to a particular level, you probably should dance at the next lower level at the Convention. But why? A caller you've never danced to. A caller who may not call "directionally". You really don't want to break down the square a lot - so get your practice to other callers at a level you're comfortable with (to end a sentence a preposition with). If, for example, you're in the Plus hall and find that you're having some difficulty and the square breaks down a number of times, try the Mainstream hall. You, and the seven others dancing with you, will have a much better time. Rather than dance around the subject, it's not fair to the others in the square if you are the cause of multiple breakdowns. It reflects on you - and also the caller who taught you.

Remember - square dancing is really a team sport and the other members of the team are there to help with you....

Sally and Steve

A square and round dancer concerned about the preservation of our dance activity publishes this E-Newsletter. This is not a publication of the West Coast Square and Round Dancers' Association, Inc. The target audience is the dancers in the West Coast area of the state of Florida and contains dance information for the upcoming week in this area as well as major dances around the state and nation, and any other information of interest to the dancers. Publication is weekly with addendums as needed. All new information is highlighted in yellow. Please forward this newsletter to your membership or other interested parties, or provide printed copies to your members and visitors. The newsletter is also available at www.dancergram.com. If you would like a copy emailed to you or would like your club information added, please contact the editor at sqdncfan@gmail.com. Please continue to support the West Coast Dancer, a publication of the West Coast Square and Round Dancers' Association, which is published bimonthly and is provided free of charge for all dancers. For circulation, listings, club news, ads and articles, contact Ed Henning at 813-659-4787 or evhenning99@gmail.com.
