Our Dearest Friend - To Us All!!

A Square Dance Legend

Marshall FLIPPO Passed Away

Tonight In Osage Beach, MO

We Love You FLIPPO !! RIP

Phyllis Kent On a Missouri farm during the Depression, on July 4th of 1930, Phyllis Kent came into the world. Thereafter, Grandmother told her every year, “All those fireworks are just for YOU! “Grandmother was a one-room schoolteacher in Powersville, Missouri--and her mother had been the same. In her maternal bloodline Phyllis possessed Native American and canny frontiersmen, resourceful farmer, and a grandfather who’d fought in the Civil War. With two older brothers in the Navy during World War II, Phyllis tagged along with her father, working in the fields; excelled in her studies; rode her own, beautiful Tennessee Walker named Starlight; and attended church every Sunday with her lifetime friend, Ellen. Phyllis learned to sew with the 4-H Club. An exceptional seamstress, she competed at the Missouri State level. Phyllis was also a gifted athlete—winning nearly every competition within 4 states. But what she really loved to do, was dance. Grandmother was a wise and well-educated woman, who insisted Phyllis attend college. “An education is something no one can ever take away from you....and you never know when you might need your education.” So Phyllis traveled to Chillicothe Business College, where she obtained her degree from secretarial school, even though she had a full first-year scholarship to a state university. When young Phyllis met Robert Kent, four years her senior--she was Valedictorian of her class, and Superintendent of her Sunday school. Bob Kent swept into Mom’s small town as a dance teacher for Fred Astaire Studios-- in a flashy yellow roadster, from Kansas City. He was a persuasive, charismatic, tall and handsome man. He had vaudevillian star ancestry and a magnetic grin. They eloped to Madison, Wisconsin. Grandma went to bed for a week. Phyllis bore five children, all of whom survive (Vivian Kent, Jaylene Kent, Aimee (Kent) Ballantyne, Robert Kent Jr., Brian Kent (Satomi), Phyllis is survived by two beautiful and gifted grandsons (Ryan and Hugh). Phyllis Kent made the courageous decision, in the face of her marriage having dissolved, to educate, house, and provide for her five children, alone. She had a job at Pine Crest Preparatory School, and the children thrived.

Phyllis Kent spent the next 54 years of her life at Pine Crest School. She thus provided her children, with an education very few people can afford—more expensive than most colleges—the kind of education that may never be possible again. They received instruction in sciences and math, history and English, philosophy and psychology—band, singing, swimming, diving, drama, painting—drawing, decoupage, and ceramics--athletics, sewing, cooking, foreign languages, modeling, poise and charm. They won beauty and cheerleading contests. Jaylene was voted Homecoming Queen. Bob became a star athlete, voted into the Athletic Hall of Fame at Pectin the summer, her children learned archery and rifles, boating and canoeing, hiking and survival skills, crafting, dancing and horseback riding. They wrote songs and performed in plays and skits. Aimee graduated from Dartmouth, Bob Jr., from Cornell. Jaylene obtained a Ph.D. Jaylene and Brian own a business together in Guam. Aimee Ballantyne recently opened her own business locally, Friends In Stitches Recovery Bee, LLC--specializing in sewing instruction, using donated recycled fabrics—benefiting the environment—and re-creating art from used fabric and notions. Phyllis Kent loved nurturing things. She adored living flowers, the exciting tastes of Florida’s exotic fruits, and its unique wildlife. She cherished butterflies protectively. She could become quite hard-pressed when her caterpillars were running low on milkweed, or being eaten by toads or lizards. Mom even constructed an outside nursery for them using wood and chicken-wire-- to protect them from their predators. She would trundle a chrysalis protectively inside, where she could monitor its progress more closely—before releasing it, metamorphosized—to flutter into the sunshine. She also loved to garden and to feed the birds, who flocked to her yard in droves. We teased her about her “imaginary hummingbird feeder”-- until one day we spied a real hovering hummingbird, just outside her window! We could hardly believe our eyes. Mother not only had a lifetime passion for dancing; but was a gifted teacher of Square Dancing, Round Dancing, Line Dancing, ballroom dancing. I have seen her outlast teenage girls at outdoor parties, when she was long into her 70’s, at line dances. She was also President of the Florida Round Dance Council, and travelled far and wide to see her dance friends. By providing for her own children and working for the children of others at Pine Crest School, Camp Highlander, and Pine Crest Day Camp, Phyllis became an epic model and mentor for many staff at the Pine Crest campus. Phyllis’ native intelligence, resourcefulness, organizational skills, innovations, insights, and tremendous hard work-- natural leadership and witticisms--propelled her to the top of the administrative ladder. She never took a sick day--in 54 years of employment at Pine Crest School. Over her tenure, she started out driving a bus, serving as a secretary--substituting for dormitory parents on weekends-- and acting as lower school librarian. At her zenith, Phyllis served as Director of Pine Crest Day Camp Transportation, and Dormitory Coordinator at Pine Crest School. She worked roughly 120 hours per week, all year long. The wealthiest and most influential, as well as the most learned former students in Broward County, and beyond--will never forget Phyllis Kent’s contribution to their lives at Pine Crest. A celebration of Phyllis Kent’s life will be held at First Christian Church of Wilton Manors, 2725 N.E. 14th Avenue, Wilton Manors, Florida, 33334. Dr. John Stauffer, Pine Crest ’62, will officiate. The service will be the Sunday after Thanksgiving Day, November 25th, 2018, at 1:00. All of the many who loved Mrs. Kent during life, will be welcomed to honor her memory.
