From the Editor...

A conversation was overheard at a dance several weeks ago, and I have been thinking about it ever since. A dancer was telling another dancer, who is not a strong Mainstream dancer that she should go to the Strawberry Square Plus dance on Saturday night. She was told that if you don't know something, the caller will teach it. Does anyone see anything wrong with this conversation?

First of all, the Saturday night Plus dance is a just that, a dance; not a class or a workshop. Dancers who are strong Plus dancers go on Saturday night to dance and enjoy their level of dancing. How long do you think they will keep coming if the whole evening is a workshop? The Wednesday night dance has a 30-minute workshop before the dance. From 7:30 p.m. – 9:30 p.m. is a dance, not a workshop.

It takes approximately 21 days to form a habit. When a new dancer finishes learning Mainstream, they have not had anywhere near 21 days to form a habit. Twenty-one days means each call has to be practiced every day for 21 days. If you watch a square of good dancers, you will notice they are smiling and even talking to each other as they dance. They have formed a habit for every call and they don't have to concentrate so hard to complete a tip. When they don't have to concentrate so hard, they can relax and enjoy the dance.

I am always seeing this; a dancer is encouraged to dance a level that is way above their competency. Then the others in the square have to keep telling the new dancer where to go, how to do..... This also "runs off" the dancers that know Mainstream who came to dance and enjoy the Mainstream level. You can see this in a club that has poor dancers and the dance ends up being a workshop or an evening of directing people through the moves. It is very tiring for the experienced dancers that really know how to dance when they have to stay alert and direct people around the square.

Do you know that in Germany, after a dancer has learned Mainstream they have to dance that level for two years before they can learn Plus? Just about every dance in the Tampa Bay area alternates Mainstream and Plus, so why do we rush new dancers through Mainstream? There are plenty opportunities for Mainstream dancers to dance at these clubs that alternate Mainstream and Plus. As soon as they finish learning Mainstream, they are pushed into learning Plus. At the time a new dancer finishes learning Mainstream, they aren't experts at that level. They have been exposed to all the calls, but they are far from being experts. How can we expect them to be good at Plus, if they aren't comfortable with the Mainstream calls yet?

On the flip side, there are many dancers who get up for a level way above their expertise, and yet they think they are too good to attend classes and workshops to refine their skill. Just because dancers get up for a Plus tip, doesn't mean they know how to dance Plus. I have mentioned numerous times, the importance of attending new beginner classes to keep up with the changes in the call lists, new ways of doing some calls, etc. I can tell when a dancer doesn't attend these classes and learns the new way of doing things, because they are still doing it the way they learned 30 years ago. Three (3) moves in particular come to mind; Recycle and Linear Cycle do not have a handhold.

Recycle¹: Starting formation – ocean wave only. The ends of the wave cross fold as the centers of the wave fold in behind the ends and follow them around, then face in to end as two facing couples. Just as the movement is ending couples would take normal couple handhold ready to adjust for the next call.

Linear Cycle²: From a Wave or applicable Line of 4.

1. Hinge;
2. Leaders Fold behind Trailers (who do not adjust);
3. Any Shoulder Double Pass Thru;
4. Peel Off in direction of Shoulder Pass.

Ends in Facing Couples. This is a 4-part call.

Notes:

- Mantra: Hinge, Fold, Follow, Peel.
- Any Shoulder means to pass the most convenient shoulder.
 - When doing Linear Cycle from a L-H Wave, pass Left-Shoulders;
 - When starting from all other formations, pass Right-Shoulders.
- Peel Off in direction of Shoulder Pass:
 - If passing Left-Shoulders, Peel Left (as one movement, Leaders flip to the left (180°) and step forward as Trailers Left-face U-Turn Back to end as a couple);
 - If passing Right-Shoulders, Peel Right (as one movement, Leaders flip to the right (180°) and step forward as Trailers Right-face U-Turn Back to end as a couple).
- Although Linear Cycle is a no-hands movement after the initial Hinge, you may encounter dancers who try to hold onto your hand throughout the movement.
- From a Wave, Linear Cycle is choreographically equivalent (and almost identical in flow) to Recycle & Sweep 1/4.
- Historically, Linear Cycle was a 3-part call:
 1. Hinge;
 2. Vertical Tag The Line (or Vertical Left Tag The Line) without adjusting to the center line;
 3. Peel Off in direction of shoulder pass.

Partner Hinge: From a Mini-Wave or Couple. Do 1/2 of a Trade. Ends in a Mini-Wave. From a Mini-Wave, Partner Hinge is an Arm Turn 1/4; from a Couple, Partner Hinge is 1/2 of a Partner Trade (as one movement, Face each other and Step to a Right-hand Mini-Wave). The word 'Partner' is optional: the word 'Hinge' is sufficient to describe this movement. Usually, however, the caller uses the term 'Partner Hinge' from a Couple, and 'Single Hinge' from a Mini-Wave.

Linear Action (Lee Kopman 1982): From a Generalized 1/4 Tag or other applicable formations. Centers Hinge & Box Circulate 1 & 1/2 as Outsides Hinge & Trade; those who meet (Center 4) Cast Off 3/4 as the Others move up (as in Chain Reaction). Ends in Parallel Waves, Parallel 3 & 1 Lines, or a Parallelogram (if outside dancers end on the same spot).

Linear (fraction) Tag: From a Wave or applicable Line of 4. Hinge; Leaders Fold; Extend to the given fractional Tag position. If no fraction is given, complete a full Tag The Line.

Linear Flow: From Parallel Waves or applicable Lines. Linear 1/2 Tag (Hinge; Leaders Fold, Extend to Parallel Waves); Split Circulate Twice; Centers Trade. Ends in Parallel Waves.

The third movement that has changed is the courtesy turn.

Courtesy Turn³: Starting formation – couple, facing dancers. (Limited at Mainstream to couples with a man on left, woman on right.) The man (left hand dancer) takes the lady's (right hand dancer) left hand (palm down) in his left (palm up) and places his right hand in the small of the lady's back. Working as a unit, the couple turns around with the left hand dancer backing up and the right hand dancer walking forward. Unless otherwise specified, the couple faces the center of the set or the center of the formation in which it is working. STYLING: Men, the extended left hand serves as a direction indicator and the man uses his left hand to lead, not pull. Place the right hand in the small of the lady's back. Ladies use the right hand to work the skirt. The call courtesy turn is limited to turning a woman on the man's right.

(Editor's Note: The woman does not put her right hand behind the back. If she is not wearing a skirt, place the right arm at her side. The reason for this is a safety issue. If a man is holding the woman's right arm behind her back and she stumbles, what will the man automatically do? Hold her arm tighter; this will wrench the arm out of the shoulder socket.)

Yes, we need more dancers, but I don't think rushing them through levels is the answer; especially here in Florida, where most of our dancers are senior citizens. It is fact that older dancers do not learn as quickly as the younger dancers do. Florida probably has the largest concentration of seniors than any other state. I have noticed that many of the dancers who complete the 12-week class end up dropping out after two or three years because dancers are still having to help them through a tip; they're confused and think they will never learn it. It also takes some time to build up your stamina to dance all evening; 12 weeks is hardly enough time to do that.
