West Coast Association Announces Merger of the West Coast Dancer with the DANCERgram

The West Coast Dancer has been the official publication of the West Coast Association since October 1968. Over the years, it has evolved from a monthly printed newsletter to a publication posted at www.floridasquaredance.com. Our West Coast meetings used to be called Folding Meetings. Before every meeting, stacks of copies were lined up down a 6' table (on both sides of the table) and several people walked down each side picking up copies and collating the newsletter.

When we stopped printing the newsletter and put it on the Internet, many people didn't like the idea because they felt they needed to have printed copies at their dances for people without email and visitors to their dances. I have to admit, I was one of those people. I never want anyone to be left out and I can just about guarantee that none of the presidents were printing off a few copies for their members without email addresses and for their flyer table.

Ed Henning was the editor of the Dancer for 15 years and had to retire last summer due to his and Ginny's health problems. We were inundated with volunteers! LOL. Kidding aside no one volunteered and the last issue that was published was the April/May/June 2018 issue.

In the early 2000s, I started writing a quick email newsletter for Buttons & Bow of Lakeland to communicate dance information to them. The email started growing and in 2005 it had become too large to send in an email and had to be produced as a Word document that was attached to an email. In 2007, at the request of many of the readers, a website was built. Cliff Reiss, a Temple Twirlers member, volunteered to fund and build the site. At the time, the DANCERgram was housed on his homeowner's association website so we had to be careful not to take up too much memory. A few years ago, we moved it to GoDaddy, which gave us a lot more space so we could expand the newsletter and post more flyers.

At the February 3rd West Coast Meeting, a motion was made and accepted to merge the West Coast Dancer with the DANCERgram and make that the official publication of the West Coast Association.

The target audience is the west coast of Florida which is 16 counties on the west coast of Florida. It's not only for the dancers but also for the callers and cuers. It contains a list of contacts; a list of all the dances in our area with the county rep information, the name of the dance, types of dancing i.e. Squares, Rounds, etc., dance level, and contact information for each dance; Health & Sympathy which is currently for Federation officers, West Coast officers, past presidents, callers, and cuers in the newsletter itself and for everyone else on the website list; Your Source which lists the items that I carry and sell i.e. ribbons, buttons, fundraisers, etc.; This Week, which is the dance schedule for the upcoming seven days; Classes and Caller and Cuer

DANCERgram

Schools; One-nighters and demos; reprints of articles with appropriate attribution; articles that I write, square dance travel; and, Looking Ahead which lists all the new information regarding dances, meetings, deadlines, etc. and then the information is moved to a chronological list by year and will re-appear in the newsletter when we get close to the date; and Links.

With the merger, we are adding a new section just for West Coast Association information i.e. President's Message and Club News. Cliff and I are currently working on the necessary changes to complete the merger. Eventually, we will also be taking advertisements.

I have tried to implement a sharing of information between the Associations, which is working with two Associations. Steve Adler, Southeast Association President, writes an email newsletter to his dancers and he would take excerpts from the DANCERgram. He now just forwards the entire newsletter to his distribution list. Yes, the This Week section is specifically for the West Coast, but everything else is applicable to all dancers, callers, and cuers in the state. If a caller from outside our area calls in our area frequently, they receive the DANCERgram on a weekly basis.

I have subscriptions to all the Association publications, the Bow & Swing, American Square Dance, and USDA News to gather information. I am also on the distribution list for national convention press releases so I can include them in this newsletter. I have also requested from all the clubs and dances in the West Coast area to add me to their distribution lists so I will receive their information and they won't have to do a second email to me (because a lot of times they forget to do that!).

If time sensitive information is received between issues, an addendum is sent out. The types of information include canceled dances, change in callers or cuers, health and sympathy information, and during hurricane season messages regarding damages or injuries to any of our dancers or the dance locations.

I'm at the point now, that due to the size of the distribution list (approximately 800 names) I am looking at Mail Chimp to use for emailing the newsletter. With Mail Chimp, it can be set up that there is a list of each of the sections explaining what is contained in that section and they click on a button that takes them directly to that section on the website for more details. This will eliminate having to email 30 +/- pages, the email servers will think there is only one name on the distribution list, and it will also have a feature where people can be added or deleted automatically without me having to do it. Since we will be taking advertisements, I am looking at Microsoft Publisher to create the newsletter. I am in the process of learning Mail Chimp and Publisher.

I offer some additional services i.e. consulting; the point person for class and dance information in our area; proofreading; Master Calendar; working with the convention chairman, I produce a Convention Fact Sheet each year and I was sending it just to the dancers in the West Coast area but the past couple of years I've sent it to the other associations so they can forward it to their dancers if they want to; notify the Florida Callers Association Goodwill chairman and the Round Dance Council secretary when I receive information on one of their members; maintain the list of West Coast dances, and maintain a list of Florida Square Dance Publication Deadlines. If I'm contacted about class and dance information outside our area, I know who to contact in the other Associations to get the information or refer them to. The Master Calendar is currently 51 pages long and goes through 2021. It contains all the dances in our area and as well as Association weekends, camping weekends, state and national conventions, West Coast, SCCA, and federation meetings and holidays that would affect building closings. And...I've just added the Super Bowl because we all know the attendance won't be very good on that day. February 2nd is Super Bowl Sunday in 2020 for those of you that don't know! As I add events to the Calendar, I sometimes find conflicts and I notify the person that is in charge of the dance.

For those of you that like numbers

1. The annual average traffic is holding steady at just under 1,300 unique monthly visitors.
2. The number of monthly visitors in 2018 peaked (as expected) in Q1 and Q4 because of snowbirds.
3. Despite the loss of a few clubs, the number of dancers is holding steady year over year.
4. It is too soon to draw any conclusions for 2019; we will need to wait for Q1 stats.

The pluses of this merger are (1) by emailing, there is no postage expense; (2) the information is more current than a publication that is only printed once a quarter or even once a month; and (3) there's no printing cost.
