From the Grapevine Editor

I was pleased this past weekend to attend the caller's school. It brings back memories of when I was a budding caller. I loved doing that, but Marie wanted a dance partner, not a caller. So, to do what was the smartest decision of my life at the young age of 29, I only did guest tips and such like that and had Marie as my wife, a decision I have not regretted once.

As existing clubs are beginning to dance again please pay attention to the deadlines for the Grapevine. The April issue deadline is March 22, 2022.

A note of Prayer is asked for caller, Bobby Keefe.
God Bless you all.

Dixie Dancers - Lake City, FL - Caller Bill Chesnut

February was a great month for the Dixie Dancers. March will kick off with a Mardi Gras party on the 1st. We had a visitation and banner retrieval in February from the Moose Promenaders. Lake City had the Olustee Festival but no square dance festival this year. Many of the Dixie Dancers were off with the Square Wheels that weekend anyway. We did have a Valentine's party and Teen Town looked great in Red and White.

The Dixie Dancers have 2 students who started with us a short while back and are progressing nicely. They get some extra training from Ed and Donna and the club members all help in their progress. Bill Cassidy was in Jacksonville for a caller's school at the end of February. We look forward to his continued progression as a caller. Bill Chesnut is our main caller and continues to work with Bill. And last week Ann Hadsall stopped by and cued a few rounds for us as she prepares for the state convention in Daytona March 18 & 19. If you are at the convention, you will have the opportunity to dance with Ann and both Bill's. We hope to see you there.

The Dixie Dancers are hosting the Memorial Dance for Ellis Lindsey on March 5. We hope to see you there and share our memories and pay tribute to Ellis and family for their hard work in the square dance world. The dance is Saturday from 2:30 – 4:30 at Teen Town. Please come join us.

Come out for squares and limited rounds any Tuesday starting about 6:45. We do encourage you to contact Bill Chesnut 352-256-8628 or Bob and Barbara Rosenthal at 386-365-7136 if you are coming out just to make sure we are there. We dance in a city owned building, so they occasionally don't have the building available. Come out and enjoy all the fun every Tuesday night at Teen Town. It is located at 533 W. Desoto Street, Lake City.

Covid is still around so careful whatever you are doing. Shop, eat, dance, socialize, attend functions, and go about life as you are comfortable doing. Just follow the current rules and suggestions and stay safe.

We look forward to welcoming you at the Dixie Dancers.

Salty Bobbers – Steinhatchee FL - Caller Charlie Pergrossi

February was an exciting month for the Salty Bobbers. Thousands of visitor's crowds into the small community to celebrate the annual Crab Festival. Vendors lined the streets, and our dance hall was overtaken by festival events. There are parades, bands playing in the streets, campgrounds and hotels are booked full. Since most of our Salty Bobber members are residents, they all volunteered to man booths, sell drinks, tickets, and souvenirs. It was an exciting festival and I've included a photo of one of the parade characters, a dinosaur! We couldn't dance in our regular hall, so we moved across the river to the Jena community center. We aren't going to let a festival stop our dancing! We have a class going this year with two young ladies joining us and they are having a ball. We want to send an open invitation to all of you to come join us for an evening of fun and fellowship. So, until we see you next time, we're saving you a spot in the best square in Steinhatchee.

Rollaways – Jacksonville, FL - Caller Mark Fetzer & Cuer Susan Snider

Covid may have slowed us down, but we're still dancing! On January 26th we were visited by members of the NEFSARDA board who served us ice cream sundaes! This was our reward for club visitations in 2019 - pre Covid! We appreciate your visit and really enjoyed our treat! That same night the Moose Promenaders showed up in force to steal our banner! It was great to see our Moose friends. Two weeks later we retrieved our banner! We've been trying to recruit new dancers and last night we had two visitors. We're hoping that they return and become regulars with the Rollaways.

Our size may have decreased, but we're still very active and invite everyone to come visit and feel our enthusiasm!

Our club cuer, Susan Snider, will be cueing at the Northwest Roundup in Tallahassee on July 29-30. We dance at Sandalwood High School on Tuesday night at 7 p.m. Please drop by if you're available

NEFSARDA and the Florida Federation - No Report

Florida Callers Association

I told it through the Grapevine: Ramblings from beautiful downtown Melrose. February was an up and down month. Dances are going smoothly for most callers and dancers but the numbers are lower than pre pandemic. I am happy to see some dancers returning and we wait when more are comfortable and ready to dance. As we prepare to say a final goodbye for now to Ellis Lindsey on March 5 in Lake City, I was reassured this past weekend that the future of square dancing is in good hands.

The Sunshine State Callers School was in Jacksonville and 11 beginning to intermediate callers where there to learn. If you were not at the wrap up dance Saturday night, you missed seeing some of the talent that is coming along. Callers were there from a couple in their teens to some that were a bit older, and all skill levels were present. Great jobs by the staff in helping each develop new skills and hone their existing ones. I was very proud that most of the attendees were from Florida. Have you ever thought of becoming a caller? The same staff will be back in February next year if you are interested.

Now it is March and time to prepare for the Florida State Square and Round Dance Convention. It starts off March 17 with a Trail End dance at the Nova Center, continues Friday and Saturday, the 18th & 19th at the Ocean Center. We have lots of great callers and cuers scheduled for your dancing pleasure. Come join us and support your state convention. See old friends and meet new ones. Dancing starts at 9:30 on Friday morning and goes all day with a couple of meal breaks. Come join us and share in this experience.

Covid has slowed down a bit but don't drop your guard. All clubs' welcome visitors and hope you can come out. Now wash your hands and put the Sets in Order whenever you are ready to dance.

We will be watching for you in a square.

Bill & Mary Chesnut

Sunshine State Callers School

Jacksonville was honored and blessed to host the Sunshine State callers school Feb 24-27, 2022. This school brought some new and some seasoned callers to the area to be taught the craft that I respect and used to be a member of. That of the Square Dance Caller.

We had callers from as far away as Kentucky and Alabama. We had three local callers that we all know. Mark Fetzer, Gideon Sharkey, and Jane Dando. From elsewhere in Florida we had Gary Hicks from St. Peterburg, Robert Doyle from Panama City, Darrell Cevasco from Edgewater, and Bill Cassidy from Ft. White. Our neighbor to the west, Alabama, sent a brother-sister duo, Rosie and Stephen Caudle, from Springville. They are a great calling team. Then from the frozen tundra north of the Mason Dixon line came Kristy Williams from Louisville, KY.

The instructors for these students have been calling and teaching for many years. I cannot think of any better teachers to usher in the future of our activity than Tom Miller, Bill Harrison, and Ken Ritucci. – Stephen Bigelow

LIGHTHOUSES OF FLORIDA
St. Augustine Lighthouse (Haunted)
Volusia Bar Lighthouse
Ponce de Leon Inlet Lighthouse

St. Augustine Lighthouse: The current lighthouse is the second tower to be built on the north end of Anastasia Island between 1871 and 1874, but the first tower was officially lit in May of 1824 by the new territorial American Government and was the first of Florida's many lighthouses. However, it is recorded both the Spanish and/or the British governments had wooden "watch towers" as early as 1565.

The Spanish were in control of the area in 1737 and built a more permanent tower of coquina from a nearby quarry. Facing erosion and a changing coastline, the old tower crashed into the sea in 1880 but not before a new lighthouse was lit. Early lamps in the first tower burned lard oil for silver reflectors to shine the light out to sea. In 1885, after many experiments with different types of oils, the lamp was converted from lard oil to kerosene.

One of the early head-keepers was a Major William Harn, a Union war hero, and his wife (Kate) and their 6 daughters. They manned the lighthouse for 20 years. Two of their daughters are part of the "Haunting".

The "HAUNTING"

History relates a tragedy did happen at the lighthouse while Major Harn was its keeper. The lighthouse family was devastated by the death of two young daughters. One day, while playing in the surf not too far from shore, the girls were swept into the sea. Days went by before their bodies were recovered and buried on the lighthouse grounds. The younger of the two was 12 years old and had long brown hair. At one time the Coast Guard rented out part of the keepers' house. It was during one of these times a renter said he would hear someone humming like a little girl would hum when playing with her dolls. Other times he would hear giggles with a ball being bounced around but never saw anyone until one evening late he investigated a room where he had never been before. Creeping into the room he saw a young girl about 12 with long brown hair wearing a blue dress with a white pinafore. She had turned her head - but not her body - when she encountered him. He never searched for her again.

And there is a mystery surrounding Major Harn too. Every night the keeper had to carry a gallon bucket of kerosene in each hand, climb the steep stairs to the lantern room, trim the wicks and prepare the lamps. Then at daybreak do the same thing except to cover the lens prisms from the hot sun. This was grueling work and may have proved too taxing for the keeper or possible something else happened. The actual cause of his death is not known. He just keeled over and died. Did he break his neck, have a heart attack, or worse---murdered? They never found out. They buried him BUT is he resting in peace? Strange noises can be heard; footsteps following someone, heavy breathing, shadows, doors locked that should be open or vice versa. Many more interesting things have occurred while construction workers were renovating the lighthouse. Check the book Haunted Lighthouses by George C. Steitz. Very interesting.

Volusia Bar Lighthouse: This lighthouse was first constructed in the late 1800's on the southern area of Lake George. Since that area was so often hampered by prolong heavy fog it was first equipped with a "fog bell". This bell was adequate for a while but as trade travel increased it was decided in 1885 to construct an active lighthouse with lighting. This lighthouse became operational in 1886 and helped boaters until it's deactivation in 1916. The structure was left standing, but it was reverted to using "the bell" during foggy weather. The lighthouse was abandoned in 1943 and later destroyed by vandals with a fire in 1970.

Ponce de Leon Inlet Lighthouse: This Lighthouse has many interesting points associated with it: history, tragedy, mystery and it is the tallest lighthouse in Florida. The inlet giving the lighthouse its name honors Juan Ponce de Leon, the Spanish explorer. It was he who named the state La Florida, "the land of flowers", during his search for The Fountain of Youth.

The first lighthouse was built in 1834 but was never activated because of much Seminole strife at that time. The structure was damaged during bad storm in 1835 and completely toppled in 1836. A second lighthouse was not built until 1887.

Working the lighthouse was no easy task. Fuel for the lantern was hand carried up 213 steps to the lantern room, not an easy job in Florida's hot summers. Later that same year an actual glass lens was installed which worked great until 1893 when this lens was replaced by a more modern type of lens light. This worked well until 1970 when the lighthouse was shut down and became the prey to vandals. In 1972 the Ponce de Leon Inlet Preservation Association was formed and took over the restoration of the lighthouse and which now includes a museum, as it is today.

This concludes a brief synopsis of the many Lighthouses all around the State of Florida. If you would like additional information about any of them, I suggest you check out the website "Wikipedia" or look for "Florida's Fabulous Lighthouses" books that will be for sale at the convention. There are pictures of every lighthouse (all are interestingly beautiful) and lots more information that could not be included with each article.

We started with Cape Canaveral Lighthouse and traveled down along the east coast, around the Key West Area and up the west coast to the Pensacola area, then across the state to Amelia Island Lighthouse, ending with Ponce de Leon Lighthouse right here in Daytona Beach. It's amazing to learn there are 54 Lighthouses surrounding the State of Florida!
